Overview:

A life changing experience - as it has been described by some. We have what Magellan couldn't find, an all water route across the Andes to an active and recently exploded volcano on the coast Volcan Chaiten (May 2008). This is our most rugged and spectacular Patagonia sea kayaking trip. On your first day, you have an to engage in one of our many adventure activities. That afternoon or evening we will help you prepare for your sea kayak trip. On the next day, we put-in at just a the end of the whitewater on the Futaleufu River to start your voyage across Yelcho Lake, passing through a steep isolated Patagonian fjord-like lake, through the heart of the Andes. Next you then enter the Yelcho River that finishes at the Pacific coastline, near the semi destroyed town of Chaiten, complete with a steaming volanco. Camp on white sand beaches, view magical waterfalls, experience the remarkable fishing or gaze at the towering glaciers high above. Each evening you will set up your own tent and relax while your guide prepares a delicious dinner. On this Chile sea kayaking odyssey you will experience: glaciers, hot-springs, scenic volcanoes, temperate rainforests, alpine lakes, exotic wildlife, unique micro-climates, fishing, and a warm and welcoming Chilean culture.

The Andes to the Ocean is one of our most challenging Chile sea kayaking expeditions, as the experience can change from strong sunshine and delightful camping into a rugged physical challenge of paddling into strong wind, waves, rain and open water. (In case of a predicted storm we may substitute a more protected trip)

Day by Day:

Day 1 Friday: Depart your home town:

Fly to Miami and connect on an over night flight to Buenos Aires Argentina. Welcome to the warmth of the southern Hemisphere in summer.

Day 2 Saturday: Travel to Trevelin, Patagonia Argentina

Early morning arrival in Buenos Aires. Change airports and catch another flight to Bariloche, or Esquel Argentina. From Bariloche, a luxury bus will take you on a beautiful drive along the Patagonian lakes and mountains to Esquel. IF you fly direct to Esquel you can arrive in Trevelin with some time to enjoy the area. Trevelin, Argentina is a charming mountain village gateway just 45 minutes from Futaleufu River in Chile. Trevelin is serviced by ground transport (Bus or private taxi) from the Jet ports in Bariloche (4 hrs) or Esquel (40 min). Check into a hotel in this charming village and walk to one of several superb restaurants. Unwind, relax, and get a good nights sleep before the start of your trip 9:00 am the next morning.

Day 3 Sunday: Your Trip Starts at The Greatest Playground on Earth! Futaleufu Chile

Awake to a breakfast at your hotel in Trevelin Argentina, and prepare for the 9 am pick up. Organize the clothes that you will need for your first day of our water route through the Andes. As we drive to the border (45 minutes) we see the National Park Los Alerces, whose virgin forests are the headwaters of the Futaleufu. We cross over the Futaleufu river and in several hundred yards cross into Chile.

Option 1: Depending on weather, skill and expressed previous desires of the group. We drive direct to our put-in where we start our water crossing of the Andes on a raft down the beautiful Las Escalas valley. This is a beautiful section of whitewater that is threatened by hydro projects There are several difficult Class 5 rapids that we walk around before we enter our Introduction to Futaleufu whitewater section of class 3/4 whitewater. If anyone choses to hike, a stellar trail leads from the start of the whitewater section to our camp. At your arrival to Campo Tres Monjas your bags have magically arrived. Pisco sours and a hearty dinner await us.

Option 2: We pack up our trip and kayaks and put in on the lower Futaleufu starting our voyage on our wilderness trip on Sunday afternoon. Our camp will be on the river section of the trip. This earlier start allows a lay over day with hiking and exploration on Day 5 at a remote river valley that joins into Lago Yelcho. Rio Correntoso.

Day 4 Monday: Beginning the Voyage

Today you will wake up at the beautiful Campo Tres Monjas. At breakfast you will meet up with your sea kayak guide. We will pack and prepare for our sea kayaking trip that starts after lunch. We start on one of the most visually stunning sections, the lower Rio Futaleufu Valley. Then it is off into the winding emerald serenity of Lago Yelcho, with its world-class trout fishing, steep glacial peaks, native trees and exotic birds. Sea kayaking in Chile gets no better than this! Before the evening arrives we will make camp on a white sand beach near Isla Monita. You'll feel like you're stranded on a deserted island in the heart of Patagonia, Chile - nothing but the breeze, the lake and our beach. If you can't find peace and quite here, you won't find it anywhere.

Day 5 Tuesday: Sea Kayaking - Isla Monita to Río Correntoso

Numerous waterfalls tumble down the lush mountainsides as we silently sea kayak through this pristine Patagonia wilderness. The glass-like reflection shining off the water is only interrupted by the gentle wake from our boats. We sea kayak on until we reach a beautiful camp where the Correntoso River enters Lago Yelcho. Here we will find an incredible series of sand beaches and crystal clear waters. We'll set up camp on the beach and enjoy a wonderful meal under the southern stars. Trekking, fishing, and swimming opportunities abound. Outside your tent, you will be treated to a view of Ventisquero Yelcho - a giant glacier crowned peak with ice extending to within 600' above sea level. Words can't describe this wonderful campsite.

Day 6 Wednesday: Sea Kayaking - Exit Lago Yelcho and Enter Yelcho River to El Campo Arbol Acostado

Within 3 hours of leaving the Río Correntoso, we'll be sea kayaking under the Puerto Cárdenas bridge and into the Río Yelcho. The change in scenery and water character is dramatic at this juncture of our Chilean sea kayaking adventure. We'll still have huge mountains surrounding the waterway, but the banks of the river will be densely covered with ferns, virgin temperate rain forest, and other impenetrable rain forest vegetation. For most of its length, the river is smooth and fast flowing - a Class I/II river with few obstacles. After arriving at a bend in the river, we will sea kayak down a lush, meandering section to El Campo Arbol Acostado (Camp of the Leaning Tree). At this camp there are curious winding trails, amazing fish and bird life, and incredible flora. To top it off, you can enjoy a stunning sunset view of El Trono del Diablo (Throne of the Devil), an impressive two-tiered glacier. Unwind in this site's solitude while taking in all its grandeur.

Day 7 Thursday: Sea Kayaking - Yelcho River to Chaiten Viejo Camp

An hour after departure, we'll encounter Tres Piedras - a Class II rapid with the impressive Volcán Michimahuida providing a glacier and snow covered backdrop. We will sea kayak on between more mountains covered to their tops with virgin temperate rainforest. Charles Darwin and the Spanish Conquistadors agreed in their assessment of Patagonia, Chile and its forests - impossible to penetrate and breathtakingly beautiful. A leisurely afternoon paddle will lead us to our last camp, Chaitén Viejo close to the Pacific ocean but still on the river. We'll find ourselves near remote ranches by this point, but still well off the beaten path.

Day 8 Friday: Sea Kayaking - Out of the River and into the Ocean

Within 15 minutes, we'll be at the mouth of the Río Yelcho and preparing to sea kayak the salt waters of the Pacific. Our route will depend on the tides, the winds and other factors that come with Chile sea kayak travel. We often see dolphins swimming near our kayaks, and a sinister smoking, recently erupted volcano 10 miles away. We will sea kayak directly in front of the mostly evacuated village of Chaitén complete with mud flows. Your Chile sea kayaking loop is complete. We pack up our gear departing at 1 pm and get ready to return the 3.5 hour spectacular drive to Futaleufu in an exchile vehicle. As you catch a final view of the Futaleufu Valley; surrounded by snow capped mountains, take a moment to reflect upon all of the amazing sights and experiences of this past week. We drive to the border and cross into Argentina where you will be dropped off at a pre-reserved hotel in Trevelin. Enjoy one of the fine restaurants within walking distance in the town of Trevelin.

Day 9 Saturday: Return to Capital City

Depart early by cab from you hotel to the bus station in Esquel for the trip to Bariloche and your flight back to Buenos Aires. A private transfer can be arranged direct from you hotel to the airport in Bariloche. IF you have a flight from Esquel you have the morning to enjoy and buy gifts in Trevelin before your 2 pm flight to Buenos Aires and the connection back to your home country.

Day 10 Sunday: Return home.

Pacific Option: For groups or for those that want to continue traveling in Chile that have very flexible traveling schedule. There is a working ferry traveling from Chaiten to Puerto Montt transporting local farmers, fisherman, and trucks delivering supplies to this extremely remote area. This is true adventure travel and one must be prepared for the occasional delays that accompany this region's transportations system. Food and lodging is now available in Chaiten and the worse case scenario is that the ferry has been 24 hours late due to a huge storm. The attempt to clean the town up post disaster is a must see. This departure route is for the true adventurer whose schedule has some flexibility.
